Lakeview Project Moving At Full Speed

Deb Barnes

It is now summer road construction time. I am always frustrated when I see that dreaded sign: DETOUR AHEAD. It, of course, does not mean I will not reach my destination, it just means I will get there via a different route than the one I had planned, and a little later than I had hoped.

In much the same way, our Lakeview building project hit an unplanned detour in 2016, when our campaign specialist sadly experienced a health issue that lingered for many months.

Now about a year behind our original timeline, Mae DeWar-Aust, our Foundation Director is once again engaged with new campaign specialists, and they have already met with many community members, board members, residents and staff.

With new eyes helping us, we are taking some time to redevelop our plan for this important and necessary campaign.

Over the past two months, a study was completed to reassess our constituency's level of philanthropic interest both in our organization and our current project's needs, as well as capacity for campaign leadership. The results of this study were positive and encourages us to advance our project and campaign without any more delay.

This green light means we will be diligently working through about a seven-step process over the next ten months to advance our project. We look forward to sharing more with you and thank you for your support throughout this journey.

Our passion for care will never change, but our environment has to change from our present 1960's institutional model to a warmer, more inviting and more comfortable state of the art environment.

Yes our campaign has taken a detour, but it is alive and well and moving forward.

Generations Come Together For Activities

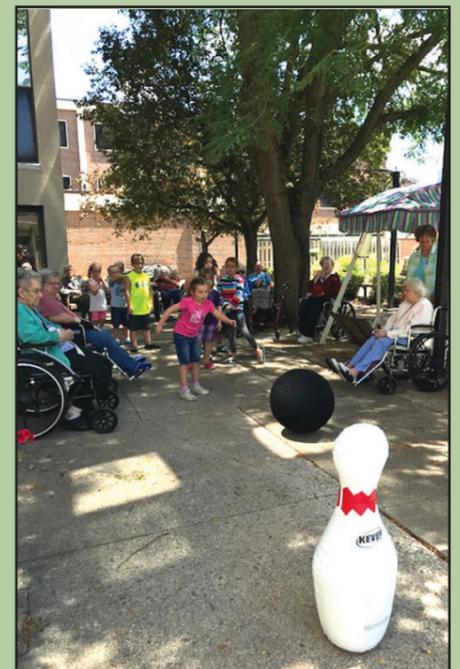

Residents at Lakeview Methodist Health Care Center are able to interact with the children of Building Blocks Learning Center & Child Care.

Brooke Wohlrahe, Photographer

When Building Blocks Child Care & Learning Center opened their doors here at Lakeview in June, we knew the opportunity for both the children and our residents to enjoy each other was such a blessing. Daily, residents sit with the children on the patio and watch them play. The children give activity demonstrations to the residents and line the walls with their artwork. The residents enjoy watching the children parade up and down the hallways singing their favorite nursery rhymes. Recently, the children joined the residents for their weekly Bingo games, ice cream treats and outside bowling. This was a huge hit with both the kids and the residents!

We here at Lakeview feel SO blessed to have Building Blocks call our campus home!

BUILDING BLOCKS LEARNING CENTER & CHILD CARE

Building The Foundation For Your Child's Future.

Building Blocks Learning Center & Child Care exists to provide a safe, developmentally appropriate environment for infants, toddlers, preschool and school age children. Our focus is to provide a stimulating early care and education experience which promotes each child's social/emotional, physical and cognitive development.

Our Center's focus is on the individual needs of each child. Each child is considered unique in temperament and rate of development. Curriculum is planned to enhance and challenge individual needs, interests and abilities. Activities and relationships occur in a healthy, positive and relaxed environment where well-qualified staff provide personal attention, guidance and nurturing to each child.

Building Blocks Learning Center strives to maintain continuity and consistency throughout the program and to encourage children to be life-long learners.

Nursing Update From Bryon Nelsen

Lakeview Methodist is excited to work closely with the Minnesota Department of Health on a new PIP project. The Performance-based Incentive Program (PIP) is a project that Lakeview is looking to start before the end of the 3rd quarter of 2017.

Our main focus is towards bettering our residents sleep to provide overall higher quality of rest for our residents. This type of sleep study has been successful throughout other nursing homes in the nation and Lakeview wants to be one of the first in our area to complete the program successfully and change how our residents sleep.

Bryon Nelsen

The PIP will allow Lakeview to purchase things such as sleep monitors, special night time lights and education to aid our facility in this project. This is an exciting step on transitioning Lakeview into its next chapter. By practicing and promoting quality sleep, it has proven to help reduce falls, fatigue and improve overall health of residents. One of the ways is to not promote residents to wake during their night time sleep cycles. We will continue to encourage residents to sleep until the time they want to get up, and work with the physicians to not wake residents in the middle of the night for them to take medications, have their blood drawn, etc.

Bryon Nelsen,
Director Of Nursing

Include Elderly Loved Ones In Your Travel

The summer season can be hard on some of our residents with families who travel. Residents would love to be able to go on vacation with their families and spend quality time with them and not feel left out.

If you can pick up grandma or grandpa or a friend at the nursing home, stop by and ask them if they'd like to go for a car ride or out for lunch. Some residents who used to farm love to go out to the countryside to look at the crops and see the baby animals. That way they're able to touch base with their roots, their upbringing, and spend the quality time with their loved ones.

Recently, one of my residents told me her son and daughter-in-law stopped and spent the whole day with her, which was the first time they had been able to see each other in quite some time. She said they were able to reminisce about their past, talk about the future, and talk about the grandkids. Just being able to have some quality time with her family members is something that left her feeling energized and refreshed.

I understand the way the economy is now and how lifestyles have changed so much over the years makes it hard for people to be with their elderly loved ones sometimes. But with modern technology such as smartphones and the videos you can make, you can bring your family right into a resident's room where they can feel right at home. Whether you are sharing pictures from a vacation or a wedding that took place, it's a perfect opportunity to let them experience it also.

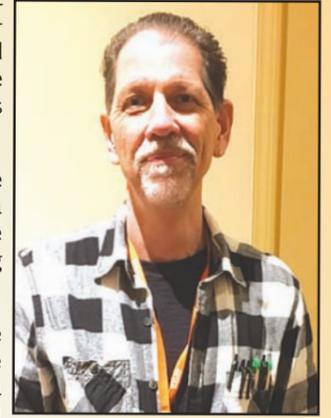

One of my residents talks to her little grandson over FaceTime. She says although she's not right there with him, they can see each other and talk with each other and it's the next best thing.

Besides a visit or an outing, if you're able to bring your loved one a small token of appreciation or gift from your vacation, or give them a call or send them a postcard while you're traveling, it means so much.

Mike Maday, Care Manager

Leading Age Advantage's Star Of The Quarter: Mike Maday

Mike Maday, a Care Manager at Lakeview Methodist Health Care Center in Fairmont, has been a caregiver for more than 30 years. This year, he added a new role to his career – blogger. Mike is one of the dedicated caregiving professionals who contributes a regular blog post to Face Aging MN.

Mike Maday

Face Aging MN, a joint initiative of LeadingAge Minnesota and Care Providers of Minnesota, is a statewide campaign to raise awareness about the issues that accompany the reality of a rapidly aging society.

Mike first got involved with Face Aging MN at the 2017 LeadingAge Minnesota Institute & Expo, where a representative from the campaign interviewed a few Health Support Specialists to identify potential bloggers for a new feature of the campaign: highlighting and elevating the profession of caregiving.

Mike's experience, dedication to caregiving and commitment to ensuring a high quality of life for those he serves made him a natural fit to write blog posts for Face Aging MN. Since March, he has shared his perspectives on his favorite part of caregiving, the value of listening in caregiver and going the extra mile to provide person-centered care.

"You don't know what it's like (to be a caregiver) until you've experienced it. It's not something that can be learned from a textbook on how it should be - a textbook can give you the basics of it, but as far as the knowing and the compassion of it, you have to be there and experience it yourself," Mike told Face Aging MN.

We appreciate Mike sharing his voice with Face Aging MN, and the contribution he is making to help us in our quest to elevate the honored profession of caregiving.

World Traveler Lands CNA Job

Ati Anderson has been working at Lakeview Methodist Health Care Center in Fairmont for three years, but prior she had literally been all around the world.

Ati was born and raised in Bali, Indonesia. She met her husband there and the two began traveling.

The couple settled in Fairmont when their daughter began attending college at Minnesota State-Mankato six years ago. The family had been here before as Ati's husband is originally from Fairmont.

"It was kind of a culture shock when I moved here," Ati explained. "I was far from my family and the first few years here I thought, 'What should I do?' I would go up to Mankato to visit my daughter and I began working some at Giddy Up (downtown in Fairmont) to help my friend Denise."

Ati's husband was a personnel manager for Club Med for many years, which is why the family traveled so much. Club Med's headquarters is in France.

"We spent so much time in Paris, always going back to check in, I feel like it's a second home for me," Ati said.

In addition to living in Paris, other places the Andersons have lived include Thailand, Florida, Morocco, Sweden and the Bahamas. Wherever the family has lived, they have stayed at Club Med.

Ati has worked several jobs in the past. She has worked as a secretary at different places, finding a job wherever the family is stationed at the moment. She has worked as an assistant food and beverage manager for Club Med, and also at a few boutiques, as she loves fashion.

Taking a job as a care provider at Lakeview Methodist in Fairmont was outside of Ati's comfort zone.

"I saw many listings in the paper for CNAs but I didn't know what that was so I looked it up and wasn't too interested," she said. "But my husband encouraged me to look into it. He loves education and learning. He signed me up to take the course and after earning my certificate I didn't apply for a job for several months, but now I've been here for three years."

Ati said being a care provider is not for everyone, as it is work that is physically and emotionally involved.

Ati was young when her own father and grandparents passed away so she didn't really understand. She helped take care of her husband's parents, which was eye-opening for her.

"I get touched very fast by the people here. They welcome me and smile when I walk in and it makes my day," Ati said of why she enjoys working at Lakeview.

"This job is not always easy. You have to work as a team and support each other," she explained, adding that she is grateful for her co-workers.

"It's hard work but it's important to know that you have to work with your heart here. That is key," Ati said.

Ati's mother and much of her family still live in Bali so she goes back to visit from time to time. She is not sure where the future will take her. Her daughter lives in Mankato but Ati and her husband may see more traveling in their future.

"I've always loved to travel. The rest of my family wasn't like that, just me. I've always liked to see new places," she explained.
